Content
Using a didactic and aesthetic perspective as a base, students are to enhance their awareness of how children acquire learning with a particular focus on communication. The course also embraces thematic and multi-medial work-forms. During their preschool placement periods the students are to stimulate the childrens learning processes within various fields of knowledge. This involves planning, carrying out and evaluating their activities.

Learning Outcomes
After taking the course the student should be able to

- clarify and discuss current didactic research related to aesthetic learning processes
- independently plan, carry out, evaluate and reflect on thematic work for which aesthetic learning processes constitute a starting-point for an investigation and elaboration of various areas of knowledge
- plan, carry out, evaluate and scrutinise didactic material focussed on childrens learning using aesthetic learning processes as a base
- apply, justify and reflect on the use of various digital aids in support of childrens learning

Forms of Teaching
Lectures, workshops, seminars, study-group work and pre-school placement periods.

The language of instruction is English.

Forms of Examination
The examination of the course will be based on attendance as well as assessment of work carried out during the pre-school placement periods. It includes planning, carrying out and evaluating activities. The student is also to make an exhibition, an individual portfolio and participate in a seminar on course literature.

If the student does not pass the examination at the preschool placement, a second opportunity will be offered within the course.

Student rights and obligations at examination are in accordance with guidelines and rules for the University of Borås.

Literature and Other Teaching Methods
