

Course evaluation report for Resource Recovery 5hp, 2016

This report contains 3 parts!

Part 1

The course was followed by six MSc students following the MSc program Resource Recovery, nine exchange students from France, Austria and China in addition to two PhD-students from SCRR. This is a little less than most years. Two course evaluations was performed, one the week before exam handed out and discussed in the class and one after exam managed in Ping Pong. Examples of the answers from the first evaluation and a report from the second are showed in part two.

The results were good and most reports were very good and so was the oral presentations the students did. They were working in pares and they mixed themselves in a good way, except for the French students. 18 students wrote the exam and one failed. The outcome of the written exam was a bit odd, but the 11 students having C had succeeded and failed on different questions, so no clear trend was seen:

Grade	Number of students
A	0
B	1
C	11
D	5
E	0
F	1

Improvements for next year:

I will go through the material again and see how the book can be more central or if not maybe skip it and go back to reports and articles. We have discussed if the book would be more suitable in the next course, Thermal Energy recovery. The composition of gust teachers was good this year, which also were seen in the course evaluation. I will try to have even more discussions next year because it is very much appreciated and the students learn a lot from them.

Respondents comments:

Some things are repetitive, also very basic knowledge in the beginning. Guest lecturers are uncoordinated, everyone speaks about the same things in the first 30min.

2. The course literature and other course materials supported my learning.

Answer choice	Do not agree at all	Partly agree	Broadly agree	Completely agree
Distribution	0%	18,2%	54,5%	27,3%

Respondents comments:

No script and a bunch of loose extra documents which we didn't cover in lecture

Only the courses and presentation is sufficient. Don't need an additional book
